

DOBBIACO 2012 PHOTO COMPETITION

As some of you may be aware we organized an impromptu Photo Competition after your week in Dobbiaco and now, finally, the panel of judges is ready to announce the winner.

Three hundred photographs were received, two hundred and ninety eight of which from M. Cristina Volonterio.

Subjects ranged from artistic snaps of local flora to groups of students captured in their more relaxed moments to the more formal settings of the final concert.

It wasn't easy to choose winners from the myriad of excellent pieces that we received, but here are the details of the winning picture with a comment from the judges.

First prize and overall winner

"Medical aids of the Hochpustertal"

Author: M. Cristina Volonterio.

The judges said : " the work epitomises that artistic creativity which truly captures the culture and history of the area. Our heartiest congratulations to Ms. Volonterio: she has an eye for detail and we think she will go far" .
